....there are dangers to face at home. When the enemy raids our towns on any scale, the dangers from incendiary bombs are very great and many stout hearts are wanted to help to combat the nuisance, therefore it's up to everyone belonging to the Fire Guard Service to realise that if they do desire to do their bit it can be done by every one of them, but only in being truly efficient, organised and ready for what may come.

Pride in the efficiency of one's own organisation is 'esprit de corps'
